

Good afternoon,

The following is a summary of my experience at Arnold Air Society's 2026 National Conclave, "WildWestCon."

WildWestCon was held in Dallas, Tx, at the Hyatt Regency of South Dallas. It was a three-day event excluding the two travel days on Friday, April 2, and Tuesday, April 7. The three days of the convention consisted of business sessions where the by-laws and conduct of both Arnold Air Society and Silver Wings were discussed, elections for the following year's National Staff, National Conclave location, and National Conclave Staff. Between these business sessions, Distinguished visitors and speakers came to speak at the Convention. Such as the Chief of Staff of the Air Force 4-star general Kenneth S.

Wilsbach.

Overall, from this National Conclave, I was given the opportunity to see the behind-the-scenes on what's going on with ROTC, I've had the chance to network with numerous other cadets from all over the country, and I got to meet inspiring leaders of today's military. Arnold Air Society National Conclave was an outstanding opportunity that I am very grateful I got to take part of, and I hope to go in future years!
