Carnegie Mellon University's Public Service Weekend

I hope all is well. I just got back from the PPIA & Carnegie Mellon University Public Service Weekend in Washington, DC on Leadership in the Age of Smart Cities- How Data and Technology are Impacting Equity in Communities. I had a great time, learned so much, made connections, took plenty of notes & pictures and more! As a result, I have some ideas for undergraduate research in the data & technology of smart cities for this fall.
